

DEVEX 2013

Young Professionals Event Is your future in energy?

Thursday 16th May 2013
from 11.50am to 1.20pm

Aberdeen Exhibition &
Conference Centre
AB23 8BL

Workshop Objective

The aim of the DEVEX 2013 Young Professionals event is to investigate the question; Is Your Future in Energy? A panel of leading industry professionals and local government representatives will answer your questions and give their views on the future of the industry in Aberdeen and globally.

As a young professional embarking on a career in the Oil and Gas industry, there may be many questions at the fore front of your mind, such as:

- Will the industry sustain careers for our generation of graduates and young professionals?
- Can it become a global energy hub with a sustainable economic and low carbon society?
- Are skills developed in Oil and Gas transferable to the Renewable sector?

The session will highlight and outline the exciting challenges ahead for the next generation of industry professionals.

Moderator

John Harris - President Baker Hughes Reservoir Development Services

Speakers

The panel of experts will be composed by:

Brian Nixon - Chief Executive of Decom North Sea;

Gordon McIntosh - Director of Enterprise, Planning & Infrastructure of Aberdeen City Council;

Iain Todd - Renewables Champion of Aberdeen Renewable Energy Group (AREG);

Ken Innes - Production Academy Manager of Shell

BOOKING ESSENTIAL

Cost includes workshop and lunch:

Attendance is free of charge for DEVEX attendees

For those not registered for DEVEX - Members of SPE, EI, PESGB or AFES: £20 plus VAT (£24.00)

Non-Members: £30 plus VAT (£36.00)

How to book??

To register please visit the DEVEX website at: www.devex-conference.org if there are any further questions please email the young professionals at devex2013yp@gmail.com.

Event sponsor

